Now Hiring Founding Faculty / High School Special Education Teacher
Full-Time Employment Begins August 2021
Location: Bellingham, WA

A Unique Opportunity For Innovative Educators

Whatcom Intergenerational High School (WIHS) will serve 120 students from the greater Bellingham and Ferndale communities – beginning with 60 students in grades 9 and 10 in September 2021. WIHS is committed to blending Indigenous ways of knowing along with Western teaching and learning practices through our use of Phenomenon-Based Learning, Critical Literacy and Intergenerational Learning. WIHS is a tuition-free, public school open to all students regardless of zip code.

In joining the founding faculty of Whatcom Intergenerational High School, you will have the unique opportunity to design and impact the education of diverse students in our county as part of an innovative new charter school. WIHS is committed to practicing the First People’s Principles of Learning, an Indigenous-created framework. Through this model, and with the support of outstanding teachers and community Elders, all WIHS students will develop competencies that will contribute to a more equitable, just, and environmentally sustainable world.

Vision

WIHS envisions learning designed with students and supported by Elders, generating deep inquiry skills, thoughtful interactions, and critical consciousness, ensuring every young person can contribute to a more just and sustainable world.

Mission

WIHS will ensure that Whatcom County high school students—regardless of their life circumstances—develop the competencies and agency for success in college, career, and life.

Academic Goals

All students:

- Are prepared to succeed in a postsecondary education option.
- Plan and engage their future goals through meaningful interactions with staff and Elders regarding their High School and Beyond Plan.
- Make yearly progress toward mastery on their phenomenon-based learning goals, standards aligned competencies and state testing.
- Acquire social, emotional, cultural, and physical dispositions for enjoying a purposeful life by understanding and practicing First Peoples Learning Principles.
- Learn through a Social Justice/Critical Literacy lens across all disciplines to contribute towards a more just and sustainable world.
What You’ll Do

As the Founding Special Education Teacher, you will be deeply involved in the design and implementation of the service delivery model. Beginning with transfer IEPs in the summer of 2021, you will support the enrollment of students from local area schools who require services. Once school begins, you will act as the Case Manager for all students, ensuring that timelines are met and all services are received. WIHS is committed to providing services in the Least Restrictive Environment possible, and we plan to utilize a very high degree of push-in and coteaching in our service delivery model.

In addition to Case Management and planning/delivering SDI, the Founding SPED Teacher will also coordinate the delivery of other interventions in General Education settings, or from Related Service Providers.

As the Founding SPED teacher, we expect a lot from you, but you’ll also be surrounded by support. You will engage in a highly collaborative process of professional development in partnership with colleagues and community elders. In addition, WIHS will contract for Director-level support as well as onsite mentoring.

As part of a group of passionate and social justice-oriented educators, you will work on a contracted stipend to develop learning experiences both in and outside of the classroom. In Summer 2021 you will join our faculty full-time, as we prepare to open our doors for students beginning in September 2021.

With over 20 days of Professional Development scheduled, ongoing coaching and mentorship, and an energetic, fast-paced team around you, you will be equipped to have a profound impact on the academic and personal growth of your students.

Where You’ll Work

You’ll join a group of driven and energetic educators for Professional Development and curriculum development at WIHS. We are located in scenic Bellingham, WA, approximately 90 minutes north of Seattle. Beginning in August 2021, you will be onsite in Bellingham to begin full time employment.

What We Offer:

- Competitive public school salary and state employee benefits (e.g., medical, dental, vision, flexible spending, life insurance, retirement) beginning in August 2021.
- Intensive training and classroom preparation.
- Professional development and leadership opportunities.
- The ability to make a difference in historically marginalized communities in our county.
- An opportunity to inspire, impact and influence the lives of children every day.

A Little More About You:

- You have a rock-solid commitment to WIHS’ mission and the communities we serve.
- You want to serve an intentionally diverse school community and value equity, belonging and inclusion.
- Start-up excites you, and the idea of developing a SPED program from scratch is energizing.
- Colleagues would describe you as being a highly collaborative and adaptive problem solver.
- You’re committed to collaborating with community elders and Traditional Providers.
- Cycles of inquiry, integrated instructional practices and designing curriculum steeped in social justice and critical literacy excites you.
- You are committed to academic excellence, but also dream of a more holistic approach where students' cultural, spiritual, physical and emotional growth count just as much as test scores.
- You’ve had measurable success in holding all students accountable while honoring the diverse cultural knowledge they bring to the classroom.
- Working hard, having fun and making the world more just are among your life goals.
- You hold WA State educator certification with endorsement in Special Education.
CONDITIONS FOR EMPLOYMENT

- Pass reference and required fingerprint background/criminal checks.
- Hold a valid Washington State teaching certificate in Special Education.
- Special consideration will be given to candidates that represent the target communities of WIHS, are bilingual, or hold multiple endorsement areas.
